One of the missing certificates was stopped at the [illegible] treasury yesterday with forged endorsement [illegible] and has been traced to one Thomas F. Smith, a saloon keeper, who gave such an unsatisfactory account of how it came into his hands that he was arrested and held to bail in $[illegible]. Smith is understood to have made a clean breast of the affair. Interesting developments are expected.

Murder.

BOSTON, Dec. [illegible]—A shocking murder was committed at No. 9 Providence street this morning. Joseph T. Hegner and Antoine G. Hultel, both young Germans, carried on the trade of locksmithing and kept together in the shop, where Hultel was found shot and terribly mutilated with a hatchet. Hegner confessed the murder.

Bloody Fracas

LANCASTER, N. H., Dec. [illegible]—A bloody fracas took place at Graveton last evening, growing out of an attempt by Michael O'Leary and a Frenchman named Blackwell, both intoxicated, to enter a house of questionable repute owned by a Frenchman named Gouye. The result of the fight was the death of Gouye and his son, a young man, who was killed by O'Leary with a club, the mortally wounding of Blackwell with an ax by old Gouye, and a bad wound on O'Leary's head from a club used by the female inmates of the house.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Arrested on Suspicion of Murder.

TENINO, Dec. 26.—A young man by the name of J. Jones was arrested by Sheriff Billings near this place last night on suspicion of murder. A settler named Taylor, aged about 40 years, has been missing for several weeks, and circumstances go to show foul play. Hence the arrest of Jones. The settlers and others are now looking for the body of Taylor. Jones was taken to Olympia by the sheriff this morning.

A REMINISCENCE WITH A MORAL

[From the Springfield Republican, December 4.]

"Squelching" a newspaper is, we suppose, a rather exhilarating pastime, but it has its risks.

Not very many years ago a newspaper made itself very disagreeable to the (then) most powerful man in New York. It called out "Watch" and "Stop thief" and the like. It dealt in the plainest and most brutal Saxon. It took a drugged and snoring community by the shoulders and fairly shook and pummeled it into wakefulness.

The most powerful man in New York resented this conduct very highly—as was natural. It was given out that the offending newspaper would be squelched. He had the complete control of the city government. He owned the Mayor, the Common Council, the army of minor officials, even a judge or two. He was the acknowledged head and [illegible] of a great political organization. All the depraved and dangerous [illegible] recognized in him the natural leader. He had immense power, immense wealth, an immense personal following. Even many of the respectable classes, even among the bankers and importers and merchant princes, there were found not a few to discredit the newspaper's charge, not a few to censure it as going too far and indulging in unnecessary violence of language, not a few to charitably insist that, after all, the powerful man had done a good deal for the city, not a few to argue that he was a great deal too powerful to be unseated, and that it was very useless and ill advised in the newspaper to make such a fuss. A drugged city, a lethargic public sentiment peevishly mumbled a desire to be let alone. The prospect for a successful issue of the squelching experiment seemed excellent. Most of the other newspapers of the city stood afar off, gleefully rubbing their hands in anticipation of what was coming. Some of them were in the powerful man's pay, other [illegible] the [illegible] powerful man at last [illegible]

Notwithstanding all which, the New York Times is still published [illegible] the powerful man at last [illegible]

[illegible] Blackwell's Island [illegible] voice—a little [illegible] their [illegible] rather important to remember.

TWEED'S P[illegible]—Tweed [illegible] United Assistant Orderly in the penitentiary hospital. The New York Sun says:

Tweed cheerfully accepted the position [illegible] length [illegible] of cots extend [illegible] the center is a great stove [illegible] of bandages and lint. Seventeen patients occupy cots, and to them Tweed [illegible] The chief orderly [illegible] opportunity [illegible] penitentiary for stealing [illegible] [illegible] Tweed [illegible]

[illegible] McDougall [illegible] Sept. [illegible] Oregon [illegible]

All now we have a little light. Dr. B. R. Freeland, G. W. C. T.; D. C. Pearson, G. W. S.; Wm. (Father) Harmon, G. W. T.; George H. Riddell, G. W. [illegible], are solely responsible for this $100 nightmare that has been disturbing us for over six years. Ungrateful friends. In the reports of these officers in September 1866 not a breath was heard about that little contract in May. McDougall in his own report at that time don't say anything about that agreement. Grand Lodge too poor. This is the first time we have ever heard how that little Lodge came to be saddled on to the I. O. G. T., and we wonder. We have been thumbing over and over all the reports, etc., to find [illegible] contract—[illegible] what's the matter.

We breathe freer [illegible] Grand Worthies, the then Grand Officers, either unite [illegible] McDougall [illegible]

But when [illegible] McDougall intending to [illegible] the time of that public discussion I stand ready to prove that he has lied on former occasions. I will prove [illegible] that he was drunk [illegible] Portland in September last [illegible] observers [illegible] Multnomah county.

On the 8th inst. the infant daughter, aged [illegible] of [illegible] Walker [illegible] Warm Springs Indian Agency [illegible] and was burned from the [illegible] a few days afterward.

Christmas was observed with appropriate festivity in Washington county. Hillsboro, Cornelius and Forest Grove each had its Christmas tree [illegible] good folks both old and young seemed to enjoy themselves in becoming style.

Nine steamers arrived at Astoria on the 22d inst., as follows: Ajax from San Francisco, Gussie Telfair from Puget Sound, One Hundred [illegible], Mary Bell, [illegible] from points above Astoria.

Junction City is soon to have a first class brass band. The citizens have subscribed liberally to purchase the instruments, and the Junction City Theatrical Troupe have volunteered to give one of their best entertainments on New Year's eve for the benefit of the band.

Up to the 10th inst. there had fallen at the Dalles [illegible] inches of snow. The thermometer has ranged from [illegible] to 12 above zero from Dec. 2d. The Columbia river on the 11th was frozen from bank to bank, and the scarcity of news was the greatest cause of complaint.

That was a gay time at Lebanon Friday night of last week on the occasion of the Brass Band Concert and ball [illegible]

Saturday evening [illegible] the following officers were elected for the ensuing Masonic year [illegible]

The Masonic [illegible] of Oregon City will celebrate St. John's Day this [illegible] evening. A public installation of officers will take place. An address is to be delivered by Hon. S. F. Chadwick, Secretary of State, after which there is to be [illegible] for the Masons and their families at Masonic Hall.

A letter from Camp Harney, dated December 16th, informs us that the coldest weather up to that date at that place was 12 degrees below zero, which is cold enough, in all conscience. Snow was 12 inches deep on the mountains, and still snowing, but stock was in good condition and doing well.

The Salem Statesman says that at Central School House Olivia Swegle made the most improvement in penmanship during the term, and A. H. [illegible] did the finest writing. At the Willamette University the most improvement for the term was made by J. M. Hackett and Miss Annie [illegible] did the finest writing.

At a regular communication of Union Lodge No. [illegible], A. F. & A. M., held in their hall in McMinnville, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing Masonic year: W. J. Garrison, W. M.; [illegible] Johnson, S. W.; [illegible], J. W.; A. W. Sargent, Treasurer; Thomas [illegible], Secretary; Henry Baker, Tyler.

At a regular communication of Wasco Lodge No. 15, A. F. & A. M., held in their hall, Dalles City, Monday evening, the 15th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: [illegible] Treasurer; [illegible] Secretary; A. Winterman, Tyler.

Robert [illegible] who had lived opposite Oregon City for two years past, was drowned in the river at that place on the 21st inst. He was standing in his boat, and it is supposed he was seized with some kind of a fit, which caused him to fall into the river. His body was recovered [illegible] He was [illegible] years old, and leaves a wife [illegible]

Two prisoners named James Wilson and Dick Alexander made an effort to escape from the penitentiary at Salem on the 23d. They secured a ladder and scaled the wall, but Wilson fell from the top to the ground outside with such force that he was stunned, and the guard nabbed him. Alexander [illegible]

A [illegible] at the Dalles, who has been deprived of his paper by the freeze up, writes as follows: "Having been for the last twenty years at least since its publication a subscriber for the DAILY OREGONIAN, and now to be deprived of it is more than human nature is capable of enduring. So, to oblige an old friend [illegible] please send [illegible] the latest papers."

At a [illegible] convocation of [illegible] held in their hall on the [illegible] inst. the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: A. W. [illegible] Secretary [illegible]

The [illegible] Patrons of Husbandry held at [illegible] on Saturday, Dec. 20th, the following officers were duly elected: [illegible] James B. THE TERRITORIES

The citizens of Olympia are subscribing liberal sums to pay the expense of a survey for a port and estimates of the Olympia and Tenino Railroad.

The report that the vessel seen bottom up outside of the [illegible] off Cape Flattery was the [illegible] was untrue. She arrived at San Francisco all right.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Co. have built and equipped a line of telegraph from Kalama to Tacoma for the convenience of the Company and safety of the road.

A man named Green, who lived about five miles from Brucport, W. T., and who suffered at times a severe disease of the heart, has been missing from his home for several days, and great fear is entertained that he has died somewhere in the woods alone.

From Mr. Phelps, of Kennewick, Yakima County, W. T., the [illegible] learn that the snow was seven inches deep in that valley on the 10th instant, and the thermometer indicated the cold at 12 and [illegible] degrees below zero. However, live stock of all kinds are reported as doing well.

The appropriation of damages awarded to Welker for [illegible] expulsion from the Neah Bay reservation on Puget Sound has not given satisfaction to the Government, and a new commission is made, in consequence of the expense of commissions will soon amount to more than the damage itself.

The new plat of Tacoma is thus described in the Tribune: The ground laid out is on the southern shore of Commencement Bay, one thousand acres in extent, and reaching from the Gallicher mill pond two and a half miles down the bay to the Tacoma mill pond. A portion of the mud flats is also laid off for future use. The most peculiar features of the new plan are the varying sizes and shapes of the blocks and the absence of straight lines and right angles. Every block and every street and avenue is curved. The lots have a uniform frontage of twenty-five feet, but differ in length, averaging, however, 150 feet. The curvature of the blocks does away with corner lots and by their great length, with much of the nuisance of street crossings, where collisions and accidents always happen, and where mud and dust are invariably the deepest. Every block is divided by a narrow street or alley of thirty feet in width. The streets are sixty-six feet in width, the ordinary avenues eighty, and the three principal ones one hundred and ten. The names of streets and avenues are purely American and mostly native, extending in their range from the Arctic Ocean down to South America.

THE UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENT

PORTLAND, Dec. 25, 1873

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The lachrymose whinings of yesterday's Bulletin, in which it asks that Hipple's crimes should be overlooked and forgiven by the people of the State, and urges as the sole reason for so doing the number of bills which the aforesaid great man has not passed in the Senate for the benefit of Oregon, remind me of a little story.

In my native town there lived many years ago a certain Major I—, an ardent Democrat and very fond of disputation. The only person who could get the better of him in debate was the widow of a Puritan minister, Grundy I—, as she was familiarly known. She was a woman of strong mind and wonderful memory, well up in the politics of the day, devoted to Whig principles, and reinforcing her arguments with Scriptural illustrations.

During the campaign of 1840 the combats between these two champions were many and were usually resulting in the discomfiture of the Democratic standard bearer.

One day, after an unusually protracted dispute, the Major, thanking to silence his opponent, said: "Well, Mrs. I—, whatever may be the merits of Gen. Harrison as a warrior and politician, you must admit that he is the most notorious libertine that ever aspired to high position, Aaron Burr not excepted."

"Lawsakes, Major!" said the old woman, raising both hands as if to deprecate the introduction of such an argument. "Lawsakes, Major, all great men are that way. Why look at Solomon!"

A WASHINGTON STORY.—There is a little story current just now that runs thus: The President, General Sherman, and our small Secretary of the Treasury occupied a box at Ford's Opera House a few evenings since. The star performer for the occasion was Little Nell, and during the performance she sang a song, improvised for the occasion, in which there were several local hits, and among them the following:

> All there is [illegible]
> He [illegible]
> For [illegible] specie payment
> [illegible] five dollars at a time.

The President mimicked [illegible] He slapped his hand [illegible] and laughed until he was red in the face. The audience, though a little late [illegible] comprehended the Executive joke, and broke into a roar that was stunning to the great financial problem. This is the first time the President was ever known to laugh in the theater. He feels encouraged to take Richardson with him when he goes in future. —Wash. [illegible]

OIL ON THE WATERS

The bribers organ in its whining about the expressions we have made of the character of the ostensible head of the ring—the real head is Holladay, who owns the ostensible editor as well as the Bulletin—seeks to propitiate popular favor and secure sympathy for the [illegible] the herculean labor which the aforesaid ostensible head is performing at Washington for Oregon. The [illegible] pure minded patriotic love of a Senator [illegible] who does work. Oh how he does work! and yet there are found men in Oregon—right here in that Oregon for which he is spending and being spent—so base as to doubt his interested heart—persons who persist in living bare the record of his acts of crime and his political corruptions and in [illegible] that he should be judged by the same rules that are applied in judging the character of other politicians and public officers. Holladay's white elephant pours it forth through the columns of the organ when he contemplates such ingratitude. And no wonder. It is enough to excite the lachrymal glands of the coldest blooded animal in Holladay's circus to see the man who stands next to the very ring [illegible] himself thus wronged. The downcast countenance and averted gaze of the ring people is not wholly owing to shame for the crimes they have committed against this community, as many have supposed. The dear sweet angelic Hipple toils himself to death for the welfare of the people and yet the people spurn him. Here is a sorrow that is not to be measured and told off in words like beads at the confessional. It must be [illegible] but it must all [illegible] carried about to weigh like iron in the heart, and to set its mark upon the faces of all the ring. Alas that these sweet souled people should suffer the misconstruction of having that imputed to them for a brand of guilt which is only the expression of a great grief.

But in the bitterness of their sorrow we fear they have overdrawn the picture a trifle and we are prompted by feelings of pity to offer a suggestion or two that may serve to allay their grief somewhat by showing them that the sacrifices of the sweet Hipple have not been quite so great as their too affectionate imaginations seem to have made them.

To begin with, the dear (at any price) Senator is a member of the committee on means of transportation to the seaboard. How he manipulated affairs to get on that committee which, above all others, his master, Holladay would have chosen to have him on we have no knowledge. He has methods of accomplishing things in politics which few honest people care to learn or learning, stoop to employ. But if the evil genius of Oregon had set itself to studying how it could best injure the State—and we are not sure it did not—it would have found but one solution of the problem. 'Put Hipple on the Transportation Committee' would have answered every condition of the question. Once on this committee, he will work against the interests of the producers of his State when he works at all, and when he is idle the producers will suffer still. This is an arrangement exactly to the hand of the railway rings in Oregon and elsewhere.

Well, having got a place on this committee, what next? The committee was regularly called to meet in San Francisco and was some months engaged in collecting such information as might be of service in the proposed work of devising cheap transportation to the seaboard for our inland producers. Other States were represented. California had full consideration. The northern States of the Mississippi valley had a hearing. But Oregon, with the committee right at her door and with a Senator on the committee, was unrepresented. The very nature of the committee was adverse to the interests of the railway ring and therefore Senator Hipple did not attend its session. He drew his $20 per month, but he did not give the services for which that was to be compensation. He preferred to stay in Oregon and help set up infamous jobs in politics. This was more to his taste and he supposed vastly more to his advantage. It is no excuse for him that his conduct resulted to his disadvantage instead of having the effect he supposed it would.

"O, but he has introduced a bill to remove the obstructions to navigation in the Columbia river at the Cascades and Dalles." So he has. These would be valuable improvements and would be worth much to Oregon. But mark what we say, he does not intend to put these measures through. They are introduced for political effect at home and he is as sure to let them die as he is to [illegible] self. Why did he prevent the appropriation for the Yamhill river? Why did he refuse to represent Oregon at the session of the Transportation Committee? [illegible] answer is patent. The railroad ring [illegible] him to do so. He will [illegible] needed improvements and then come back here pleading his inability to get them through. What is it that he has [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] must [illegible] a marvel. Introduce two free bills. Done nothing and [illegible] anything [illegible].

This [illegible] the [illegible] which this famous public functionary [illegible] made such [illegible] haste to [illegible] through the bribers organ. W[illegible] [illegible] politics which [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Oregon [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] HIM

[illegible] one of the [illegible] against the appointment of Attorney General Williams as Chief Justice [illegible] supposed connection with railway interests. Just how he is compromised by the railway rings is not clearly stated, and we predict will never be shown. It is generally understood that he was quite [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] was his excited much comment and even made him enemies in this State. We were among those who could not approve of his course concerning our railway connections with the Eastern States, nor of the part he took in the old west side and east side controversy, but we could not believe him guilty of any intentional wrong in the transaction. We thought him mistaken, and we suppose there are few, if any, who will not admit now that he was. His personal [illegible] in these matters and particularly in relation to the subject of railway connections with the East [illegible] greatly to the injury of the State of Oregon. But we could never attribute his conduct in these matters to any but proper motives. Nor have we seen any evidence since that he is seriously involved with the railway companies so as to be disqualified for a position on the Supreme bench. There may be something more of this than we are aware of, but it ought not to be charged till it can be proved. And though in the light of other circumstances that have come to light in consequence of his nomination we cannot but regard his possible confirmation as a possible misfortune, still we would be just to him. He has undoubtedly been more or less mixed up with the railway rings, but this has been a mere incident to his being in the official and political rings, and they have courted [illegible] at the same time been ruled by the railway rings. When you separate the political rings from railway rings, you separate Williams from them too.

THE OVERLAND.—The January (1874) number of the Overland Monthly is on our table and we can say without hesitation it is the finest number we have ever seen. It is a real New Years gift to its readers, full of fun and beauty. Prentice Mulford contributes the leading article—Stony Bar and its Customers, which is a picture of the old time mining scenes and habits so truthful that no old miner can read it without living over again those rare and rough days when his home was the log cabin hard by the muddy stream and within hearing of pick and wheel. Joaquin Miller has a descriptive paper about the river Rhine which proves that the hand of the Poet of the Sierras has not forgotten its cunning. And Miss Ina D. Coolbrith, whose charming poems have long been familiar to readers of Pacific coast literature, has a very sweet little bit of verse. If this is a specimen of what the Overland is to be henceforth it will occupy a place among the very first magazines of the country.

The bribers organ says it is slander to tell the truth in regard to the conduct of members of the ring. We apologize again to the legal profession for saying the editor of the bribers organ is a lawyer. And if we have ever intimated that he has moral sense enough to know the difference between honesty and dishonesty we apologize to everybody, himself included, for that. Himself included we repeat, for it seems like downright uncharitableness to say he could commit the treacherous acts and tell the falsehoods that characterize his course and still be possessed of any moral perceptions or sensibilities.

What peculiar interest has Oregon in the matter of Privileges and Elections that her festive young Senator should be placed on the committee on that subject. Isn't that a huge recognition? Transportation to the Seaboard in order to assist his employer in his railway jobs, and Privileges and Elections to help himself and his ring in their election jobs. And that is all. Isn't Oregon getting ahead in the world though?

The bribers organ says A. C. Gibbs was removed from the office of District Attorney for insubordination. Just so. The ring wanted Gibbs to serve their interests above the obligations of duty and let the bribers and the bribed go unwhipped of justice, and Gibbs refused—was insubordinate—and off went his head.

The San Francisco Bulletin says Booth will be the equal in learning and ability of any man in the United States Senate.

TRIAL OF G W JOHNSON FOR COUNSELING TO VOTE ILLEGALLY.

Upon the convening of the United States District Court yesterday morning the case of the United States vs G W Johnson was called up for trial.

A C Gibbs, Prosecuting Attorney, moved the Court that an order be made consolidating the two indictments against defendant.

Mr Dolph, of counsel for defendant, objected to such an order at this time as defendant had no notice and though prepared to go to trial on the first indictment was not prepared on the second or on the two jointly.

Mr Gibbs thought there should be some showing that the parties were unprepared for trial other than the mere statement of the counsel.

The Court sustained the objection and ordered a jury to come in. Case No 134 entitled The United States vs G W Johnson, in which defendant stands charged with having counseled one Robert Bruce to vote illegally.

THE JURY

Was called from the regular panel and consists of Martin Gilliham, Winslow Ironson, Walter Fish, E A Parrot, Marion Philip, J J Hunsaker, C E Comstock, Joseph Linstow, J S Dickinson, Aaron Cox, D E Turpin, Robt Imbrie, Israel Graden. Alonzo Hill and Patrick Hogan were challenged peremptorily by the plaintiff and excused. Ira Goodnough, Wheelock Simmons and A S Watt were peremptorily challenged by defendant and excused.

OPENING THE CASE

District Attorney Gibbs moved the Court for an order commanding the Sheriff of Multnomah county to bring Robert Bruce and James Johnson into Court that their testimony might be given in the cause. The order was made.

The prosecution is conducted by District Attorney A C Gibbs assisted by H Y Thompson, Esq. Mr Gibbs opened the case to the jury by reading the indictment and stating the expected line of proof to be followed.

The defendant's counsel are Messrs Dolph, Bronaugh, Dolph and Simon. His case was opened by Mr Dolph, who believed that the proof would acquit the defendant of any criminal or immoral action in the premises.

Counsel for the United States then offered in evidence the record of the proceedings of the County Court of Multnomah county establishing the election precincts of South Portland and East Portland.

Defendant's counsel objected and the objection was overruled by the Court.

The record defining the boundaries of the above named precincts was then read to the jury by Mr Thompson.

WM CHURCH

Was called as a witness by the prosecution, and being sworn in answer to interrogations propounded, testified to the following effect:

On the 13th of October last I was at South Portland poll room at No 1 Stable on Front street. I think the poll room is on Front and Market streets. It is south of Columbia street and East of Seventh. [The records defining the boundaries of South Portland precinct was read and witness stated that the poll room referred to was within such boundaries.]

Counsel for plaintiff and defendant agreed that all testimony relating to South Portland Precinct and to the subject of voting therein, should be considered as objected to by defendant.

The witness further testified: I was one of the judges of election in South Portland Precinct, the others were Whalley and Lownsdale. One copy of the poll books was left with me; it is now in this Court. [The Clerk handed the witness a poll book, who identified it and extracts were read therefrom showing that Robert Bruce voted at said poll.]

The witness then stated that he was not acquainted with Robert Bruce and did not recollect ever to have seen him. From examination of the poll books, witness thought the vote of Robert Bruce in South Portland Precinct, was cast between 10 and 11 o'clock A M.

DAVE RAFFETY

Being called and sworn testified as follows:

I reside in East Portland and was Judge of Election in East Portland Precinct on the 13th of October last. The voting place was at the school house in District No 21. I believe that is the number. I don't believe I know the street, the streets are not well defined. I was Judge of the Election; received the ballots that were deposited in the box; the other Judges were Mr Cason and Mr Saunders. The retained copy of the poll book was left in my possession. I have it now (handed it to the District Attorney); this is the poll book referred to.

The poll book was offered in evidence for the purpose of showing that Robert Bruce voted in East Portland. The objection by defendant's counsel was overruled by the Court, and extracts from said poll books read.

Witness continuing said: From examination of the poll books, the vote of Robert Bruce in East Portland, was cast about half past three. I know Robert Bruce. I have been acquainted with defendant about eighteen months. I saw him on the day of election, several times drive up to the polling place in East Portland in a carriage. When Bruce voted James Johnson was present. I received the ballots that were cast.

I have seen James Johnson at the court house since the election, but had never seen him before.

HILLARY CASON

Was next called and sworn. He testified: I know the defendant and know Robert Bruce. I did not see them together on election day. I saw Mr Johnson several times, almost every hour during the day, but only saw Mr Bruce once—that was when he came up there and voted. I spoke to Bruce when he came up there and voted. I saw John Collins when he came to vote; he voted quietly and then went away like any other citizen. I did not see him and defendant together that day that I know of. I saw Henry Ridgeway that day; he came there and voted. I did not see him with defendant. I don't think I talked with defendant that day. I did not see defendant with Ridgeway or Collins on the day before or the day after the election. I saw Bruce at the voting place in East Portland about 3 o'clock I should think, in the afternoon. When Bruce voted a young man named Johnson—his first name is James I believe—was there. I did not notice any one else particularly; there were others standing about the polls all day. Mr Ollar came there right soon after Bruce and Johnson. Ollar's first name is Morris. I believe I had not seen Morris Ollar previously on that day.

Here the Court took a recess until 1 o'clock P M.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Court met pursuant to adjournment.

JOHN W COLLINS

Was called first to testify for the prosecution. He being sworn testified as follows:

I know the defendant John [illegible]. I saw him on the 13th day of October. It was in East Portland where I saw him between 9 0 and 10 o'clock in the morning at Smith's store. At this juncture Mr Gibbs asked witness why he met [illegible] at that hour and place, to which defendant's counsel made strong objection to the question as being irrelevant and immaterial. The question was argued at length but overruled by the Court.

Question—State Mr Collins what was said or done at that meeting, with reference to money or papers?

This question was objected to by Mr Dolph as being incompetent and immaterial. It was argued by opposing counsel and the objection was sustained by the Court.

Question—State what you know of anything with reference to the defendant having [illegible] or papers to [illegible] [illegible] Objected to by counsel [illegible] Objection sustained.

Q—What do you know about the defendant having [illegible]

A [illegible] Johnson [illegible]

Q—State wh[illegible]

[illegible]

A I know wh[illegible]

Q—H[illegible]

Q—Do you know Bruce James Johnson and Morris Ollar?

A I know Bruce Johnson and Ollar. I saw these parties in East Portland on the 13th of October. I do not know whether they were together all the time or not. I saw the defendant riding about electioneering. I do not know what time he started out with his buggy; it was in the forenoon however I think.

ROBERT BRUCE

Was next called and testified: I am acquainted with the defendant. I was in East Portland on election day when I saw him [illegible] next to Mr [illegible] I do not know the name of the street; defendant came to us—me, John DeLashmutt and myself—while we were standing in front of the saloon on the sidewalk and asked us to come up to the polls and vote. I went in the company of the others and voted so did Jas Johnson. Defendant offered to give us the sum of $2 50 if we would vote. I voted after he made the proposition. After I had voted defendant went about the distance of a block and a half from where the voting was going on. He beckoned for us to come to him. We did so, and he paid me the sum of $2 50. He also paid that sum to John son. DeLashmutt, known as "Little Henry," and Morris Ollar were all present at the time when defendant gave Johnson and myself the money. At the time defendant handed me the money he was seated in his buggy. He paid me silver in half dollar pieces. I had voted on this side of the river before I went to East Portland and saw defendant. It was at No 1's stable up on Front street I believe where I voted.

Cross-examined.—At present I am stopping at the county jail. I am confined there for illegal voting. My true name is Robert Bruce. I voted at both places named—East and West Portland—under that name. I first saw defendant that day in East Portland between 1 and 2 o'clock. I voted at East Portland about [illegible] o'clock as near as I can judge of the time. I left this side to go to East Portland about 1 o'clock on the 13th of October. I do not know the name of the street where defendant first came to us in East Portland. We were standing out on the sidewalk in front of the saloon when defendant drove up in his buggy. Jas Johnson, A DeLashmutt, and Morris Ollar were with me at the time. These parties did not come over to East Portland with me. I saw DeLashmutt first on the east side that day. He was near the ferry landing going toward the polls. Ollar I first saw in the saloon spoken of. The conversation I had with defendant at that time was in the presence of Ollar, Johnson and DeLashmutt. Defendant asked us if we would go up to the polls and vote. When we were at the polls defendant came to us and stated that if we would vote he would pay us $2 50 apiece. The defendant addressed me directly in reference to the money. I do not know and am unable to state whether or not he spoke to the others about paying money. Some little time after he spoke to me I went up and voted. As near as I could ascertain it was about 3 o'clock when we voted. I saw defendant at the saloon about half an hour before we started for the polls. We were standing in the vicinity of where the voting was going on about 1[illegible] minutes before we voted. When I started from the school house I got into the buggy and rode with the defendant about one block and a half until we overtook Ollar, Johnson and DeLashmutt. I then got out of the carriage when the defendant gave me $2 50. This was but a short distance from the polls. I did not see any person at or near the polls I knew, except those I have already mentioned. Probably I saw some one with whom I was acquainted but do not remember now. I was in East Portland about one hour after voting. Both in coming from and going to East Portland I crossed on the railroad ferry. After leaving the defendant we came down to a saloon, took a drink and started for North East Portland. We then crossed on the railroad ferry to the west side after which we visited the polls at the corner of A and Third streets. When I first saw the defendant he was seated in his buggy. I was considerably intoxicated both before and after voting. I surrendered myself up to the authorities voluntarily for illegal voting. I was before the Grand Jury as a witness in the Circuit Court but I do not remember any of the persons composing the Jury. I told my story to them. Prior to the meeting of the Grand Jury I did not talk with any person about the cases. Jas Johnson was present when I was before the Grand Jury. I was in charge of an officer but a short time before being locked up. Mr Buck was the officer in whose custody I was before being committed to jail. I was before the U S Grand Jury as a witness in this case. I saw Mr C A Ball at that time in the front room [the one just east of where the Court is held.—REP.] I came down from the jail in charge of Sheriff Caywood and after giving my evidence before the U S Grand Jury I was taken back to jail. Johnson gave his testimony first before the U S Grand Jury. I had no conversation at all with Mr Ball as to my examination before the Grand Jury, or as to my rights as a witness before the same. Ball did not tell me that my friends and relations wanted him to see me about my evidence before the Grand Jury. He did not say anything to me about my being compelled to give evidence or as to my criminating myself if I did testify. Ball did not say to me that I could not be excused from giving evidence. I did not ask him for advice nor did he give my counsel as to my going before the Grand Jury or giving testimony. Mr Gibbs did not state to me that if I would give evidence before the Grand Jury he would not prosecute me. I know D Rathburn. I did not tell him in the Nick O'Neil case that I did not want to prosecute any one but G W Johnson. I did not tell him that I hoped every one would get clear but Johnson. Did not tell Rathburn on the 2d of December that I was "tight as a brick" on the 13th of October. Did not say to Rathburn that Cason and Saunders swore to a d—d lie in the Nick O'Neil case. Did not state to an uncle of Johnson that he (the uncle) and the police had got me into a scrape and that they had promised to help me out of the difficulty. Did not state to the Grand Jury that I was in the wagon with the defendant when he paid me the $2 50, and I did not say that DeLashmutt was in the wagon either. I never told any person that if I succeeded in convicting the defendant I would be cleared or that my friends would be paid.

Re-examined.—Mr Ball is my attorney in my case. I desired to see him at that time on business connected with the same. He did not make any dishonorable proposition to me at that time. I met him in the front room. Our conversation was confined to that business. I have not conversed with any one in the city jail about these cases. I knew that there was an indictment against me [illegible] one week before I gave myself up. I had no watch with me on election day and fix the time only by memory.

JAS JOHNSON

Was next called. On being sworn he testified: I am acquainted with the defendant; am 20 years of age; will not be [illegible] until next February. I saw defendant on election day and saw him first on the west side at the corner of Alder and Third streets; also saw him in East Portland in a saloon on the ferry landing, and was present and heard the defendant call Bruce, talking about [illegible] and asked both of us, Bruce and myself, to go to the polls and vote. He told us [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] defendant then gave us one ticket and we both went up [illegible]

[illegible]

It was no more than half [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] We then crossed on the [illegible]

[illegible] the defendant [illegible]

[illegible] and Bruce, Ollar and myself all went together. Have known Bruce about six years; became acquainted with him in Portland. I was arrested on the [illegible] of October. On that day I went to the city jail about 11 30. I had no idea at the time that I would be arrested. I did not see any of the police before I went to jail or at the time I went there. Have not been promised anything if I testified in this case. I did not understand at first that on bail my fine would be paid. I saw my uncle several times before my arrest. I had been stopping at his house for a few days previous. While in the city jail I made a statement on the day I was arrested. I testified before the U S Grand Jury in the [illegible]. Saw C A Ball in the front room; was with him about [illegible] minutes. I had no conversation with Ball about testifying before the Grand Jury at the time in question. I did not say to Rathburn that Goldsmith promised to pay me half my fine if I would give testimony in the case. I believe my uncle said that some person would pay half my fine. I was drinking considerable on election day but was not very drunk; was not so much intoxicated but what I could recollect pretty well.

MORRIS OLLAR

On being called and sworn testified:

I was in west Portland on the 13th of October; was in East Portland on the same day in the afternoon about 1 o'clock I think. I saw Bruce and Johnson in East Portland. First time I saw these parties was near 1 o'clock. I am slightly acquainted with the parties. Saw them first in front of De Borst's saloon in East Portland. I did not have any conversation with Bruce or Johnson at that time. We all went up to the polls soon after. Had not been there but a few minutes when defendant came up. I saw Bruce vote there and then get into the buggy with the defendant and ride a short distance. Saw defendant beckon for us to come to him. Defendant handed Johnson some money; I do not know the amount. He handed Bruce something, but I could not tell what it was.

Cross-examined.—I saw defendant give Bruce something; could not possibly tell what it was as I was about twelve steps distant at the time and coming towards the buggy. I then came over to west Portland. All the time I was perfectly sober. I was at South Portland Precinct [illegible] o'clock.

The Court then adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

BALLS AND PARTIES.

We have received cards of invitation to the "Bon Bon" party to be given by the City Rifles at their Armory on Monday evening next. No doubt the affair will be the pleasantest ever held at the hall of this Company.

The Turn Verein had a splendid time at their hall last evening, the occasion being one of their social parties. A Christmas Tree was a feature. We thank the Society for a complimentary. The entertainments given by the Turn Verein are always quite popular, and those favored with invitations invariably attend.

In another column is the announcement of the Grand Ball to be given at Masonic Hall on New Year's Eve, in aid of the Independent German School. The school is considerably in debt and the Society hope to be able to reduce through this medium. Those attending will not only aid a good institution but will at the same time experience a pleasant time. Those conducting the affair have arranged to decorate the hall and in every way afford guests an opportunity of fully enjoying themselves. There will certainly be a large and enthusiastic assemblage present at Masonic Hall on New Year's Eve.

UP THE COLUMBIA.

Through the kindness of the O S N Co we learn that the state of the weather east of the mountains yesterday forenoon, was as follows:

Walla Walla—Clear and cold; thermometer 34°; wind blowing a gale down the river.

Wallula—Weather cloudy and foggy; thermometer 22°.

Umatilla—Weather this morning foggy; thermometer 23°.

Dalles—Weather foggy and raining; thermometer 32°.

Cascades—Clear and cold; wind blowing down stream.

At 6 0 o'clock last evening the weather was as follows:

Walla Walla—Foggy; thermometer [illegible]

Wallula—Cloudy; no wind; thermometer 22°.

Umatilla—Light down stream wind; foggy; thermometer [illegible]

Dalles—Cloudy; thermometer 2[illegible]

Cascades—Clear and cold; thermometer 2[illegible]

OREGON CITY ITEMS

Our obliging correspondent sends us the following:

On Christmas Eve Prof Cardwell gave a ball at Myer's hall.

The Episcopal Sunday School had a Christmas tree which we understand was quite handsome.

Christmas day passed very quietly, the most pious enjoying it by giving or partaking of dinner with their friends. We failed to hear of a single drunk.

On Christmas night a ball was given under the auspices of several of the citizens, the proceeds to be donated to a suffering and worthy family in our midst. We understand a handsome sum was realized.

The young man Eddie arrested for the murder of Adams was examined before Justice Burns of this place on Wednesday. Eddie was discharged, there being no [illegible]

Christmas holidays are upon us, and with it [illegible] which almost completely monopolize all other business or make it mighty dry. On Christmas Eve the Baptist, Methodist and Congregational Sunday Schools united in a social at Pope's new hall. The exercises were informal and a good time was enjoyed by all who were present. Many expressed themselves as having the best time they ever spent on such an occasion.

On Christmas night Hon W Carey Johnson and wife celebrated the fifth anniversary of their wedding, on which occasion a host of friends assembled to join in congratulating the worthy couple. Rev J D Fox was the sentimental poet of the evening, and C P Church [illegible] the humorous. Both gentlemen did justice to the occasion. Various articles of foreign production (wooden ware) were received and both poems were written on like material. The company dispersed at a seasonable hour, all seeming to have enjoyed the evening very much.

EUGENE CITY ITEMS

Our regular correspondent at Eugene, sends the following under date of the 25th:

The Fireman's Ball last night was altogether a pleasant affair. The receipts amounted to something over $200.

Surveyor General Odell, whose illness has confined him to the house for sometime, was able to be out again to day.

John Kincaid, editor of the State Journal, has been for several days dangerously ill but is thought to be somewhat better now.

The Methodist church was crowded last night mostly with little folks to witness and share in the distribution of the presents on the Christmas tree.

Yesterday was a lively day for the Recorder. A good deal of chain lightning was disposed of during the day, and several cases of assault and battery will be disposed of hereafter.

A Manual of Health.

The edition for 1874 of the sterling medical annual known as Hostetter's Almanac is now ready and may be obtained free of cost of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States and British America and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for about one-fifth of a century. It combines with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items &c are prepared with great care and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1874 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburg, Pa, on receipt of a two cent stamp will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

SATURDAY MORNING DEC 2? 1873

SCOTLAND DESIRES HER COAST TO BE DELIVERED OF A FEARFUL SNAKE

From a Recent London Letter

Abou Navas was just before the time of Ma[illegible] met the greatest magnian of Arabia. He was a terrible persecutor of the Christians [illegible] had encountered a holy hermit who [illegible] became [illegible] hermit. His [illegible] powers however all remained with him for pious purposes. One day he was passing a village and found its inhabitants in great terror and afraid to leave their houses for fear of [illegible] serpent which harassed the neighborhood. Abou Navas at once approached the monster and [illegible] solemnly to depart from that region and return to the place from whence it came. The serpent at once acceded to his request. The place to which it seems to have repaired was Devonshire, at least when St. Petrox visited that region in the early times he found the people harassed by a vast serpent, of which he made a request similar to that addressed to it by the Arabian Saint. The serpent departed and took up its abode in a cave near Dublin. Need I say that when St. Patrick—whom the wretched [illegible] quarian confounded with St. Petrox—went to Ireland [illegible] in turn encountered this monster. Having put to flight all the smaller snakes, St. Patrick found the big one of sunsite. He had been so repeatedly worried and exterminated by Saints that he now put down his foot metaphorically of course and declared he would not budge. But St. Patrick brought out bell, book and candle, and to their potency the big snake had to yield. It is well known how he slowly uncoiled, and crawled seaward and was so long that while his head was moving out of Cork harbor his tail was still visible at Dublin. This poor snake has ever since been reported as wandering about on the ocean dreadfully sea sick and always hoping for a favorable opportunity to get a residence on land again. I believe he has once or twice tried America without success; he has been repeatedly seen hovering around Ireland, and this week he has tried Scotland. The Rev Mr Joass, two ladies from Dunrobin and Dr Soutar while yachting in Loch Hourn, saw him, and as they are all intelligent people, the gentlemen well known in scientific circles, their report has come before the world with some impressiveness. It has been suggested that the monster they saw is some kind of plesiosaurus protesting against the conclusion of naturalists that its race is extinct. Mr Frank Buckland, however, is skeptical, thinks it may have been a string of porpoises or a procession of turtles or a huge Conger eel or a big deal fish (gymnetrus) or even a vast mass of sea-mud such as a friend of his once saw, which had been rolled together by the waves until it had become a long, thick cable very like a snake. Mr Buckland discloses, however, in his letter of to day that his unbelief rests on other than purely scientific grounds. If, he says, "I thought this Scotch sea snake really existed as a living animal I should be very anxious about him, as he might take to eating salmon, and we should have to put him down at once under the Scotch salmon act." To this complexion has it come at last. This is the age of chivalry past. St. George rescued a fair Egyptian princess from the dragon with his shining sword and now in the nation of which George is the patron saint St. Science thinks only of the beauteous salmon to be saved, and to pierce the encroaching monster with an act of Parliament.

GEN SHERMAN TO GEN FORREST

THE EX-CONFEDERATE CAVALRY GENERAL WANTS TO FIGHT THE SPANIARDS—WHAT GEN. [SHER]MAN THINKS OF THE PROPOSITION

The Memphis Appeal of Dec 8th published the following:

MEMPHIS, Tenn Nov 20 1873

To Gen W T Sherman Commander-in Chief United States Army Washington

DEAR GENERAL—By telegrams from Washington and other sources, it appears we are likely to become involved in war with Spain, if so I presume the seat of war will be in Cuba. In case we should become involved, and the Government should require assistance, I hereby tender you my services as a volunteer. I think I could enlist from 1,000 to 5 000 men who served in the Southern army during the late war and at short notice, and who could rendezvous at New Orleans Mobile Pensacola and Key West either as cavalry or infantry.

Yours, respectfully
N B FORREST

HEADQUARTERS ARMY UNITED STATES }
WASHINGTON, Nov 28, 1873 }

N B Forrest Memphis —SIR Yours of the 20th is received and I have sent it to the War Department with this endorsement:

Respectfully referred to the Secretary of War for file among the hundreds of others that come to me. I deem this worthy of a place among the archives to wait coming events. I regard N B Forrest as one of the most extraordinary men developed by our civil war and were it left to me in the event of a war requiring cavalry I would unhesitatingly accept his services and give him a prominent place. I believe now he would fight against our national enemies as vehemently as he did against us, and that is saying enough.

W T SHERMAN General

I don't believe there will be war for neither government wants a war. Again in the event of a war with Spain on account of Cuba the bulk of the fighting would be afloat, for whoever commands the sea can have Cuba. We may not have sufficient heavy iron clad ships, but then some could be had and we have abundance of good naval officers and seamen, leaving for land forces the small task of occupation. No part of this will likely be confided to me, therefore I have sent your letter to the War Department which can only act after Congress declares war and provides the means for its prosecution. W T SHERMAN

TRUE ENOUGH

The Washington Chronicle perpetrates the following flapdoodle concerning the assembling of the Senators and Representatives at Washington:

'It was pleasant to observe the cordial greetings exchanged between Senators and Representatives as they collected in their respective chambers yesterday before the hour for the formal call to order after their long separation. Meeting again in the arena of their former forensic contests all the asperities of those conflicts seemed to have vanished and with unclouded brows all appeared to meet as personal friends, about to engage again in arduous work for the welfare of their common country. It is to be hoped that this cordiality between these representatives of the people may be maintained throughout the session. There is no sufficient reason why they should not set the people an example of tranquility and generous forbearance while engaged in enacting laws for the protection of the rights of person and property and for the promotion of the public welfare.'

This is all sickening trash. The people expect to see a wholesome degree of conflict in the Congressional arena this winter. The Republican party has an opportunity for thoroughly re-establishing itself in the public confidence which was manifestly weakened by the course pursued last session and it can only accomplish this by vigorous measures to be pushed in the interest of the public. There must be war against all sorts of jobbery and fraud. Peace and concord in Congress mean plunder.—St Louis Democrat Dec 12th

The old military prisons at Richmond, including Libby and Castle Thunder stand just as they did during the war, their internal arrangements having been altered little if any. They are both now used as sugar factories. From the south wall of Libby still swings the weather beaten old sign "Libby Prison" put up by the Confederates during the war. It is proposed to let the old sign swing until it falls by its own weight.

Miscellaneous.

The New York Shipping List of the 4th inst says: The [illegible] for American Pig Iron have resulted in considerable business which has taken place during the past 10 or [illegible] days but only now made known; the sales made have been principally for cash with prompt delivery; the companies have not contracted ahead [illegible] and are not out of the market for that purpose. At present there is a great diversity of opinion respecting the future of American Pig Iron; persons of conservative views say the producing capacity of the furnaces has been increased fully twenty [illegible] per cent while the consumptive demand is acknowledged to be one third less than last year. If this be so and the companies claim to be able to make iron at a less price by the reduction in wages alone of twenty per cent there is little room so early in the season to look for much higher price unless some unexpected demand should spring up.

The Boston market reports show that there has been no cessation in the demand for Wool, desirable lots of all kinds of domestic being taken up as fast as offered, but prices are no higher and are not expected to advance further until a better feeling is manifested in the goods market. In foreign [illegible] the only description actively sought after; other kinds are dull. Oregon is in good request at forty cents for prime lot. Sales of California comprise [illegible] bales of free spring clip [illegible] do burry do [illegible] do fall clip at [illegible] and [illegible] do lambs at 20a22c.

The New York Produce Exchange reports that the visible supply of all kinds of cereals in store and transit November 29 1873 to be [illegible] bushels of wheat 6 [illegible] bushels of corn 2 312 [illegible] bushels of oat, and 1 838 101 bushels of barley. Being [illegible] 853 bushels of wheat in excess of the visible supply of Nov 30 187[illegible] but a less quantity of the other grains at the same period.

Orders were issued on November 29th by the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company to have 2 000 freight cars in readiness for the movement of Wheat to the extent of [illegible] 000 bushels, and it was estimated that within the fifteen days following, there would be at least 1,500 000 bushels Wheat on the way to the seaboard.

The Mark Lane Express of November 24th says: Prices are too high for speculation and Christmas is not much of a time for an advance. In France the upward tendency is more clearly shown than here. Flour in Paris being 1 franc dearer and Wheat about 1s; the majority of the country markets pointing the same way, while it is not a little remarkable that Marseilles with the arrivals this month already reaching to 280 000 qrs from the Levant and Spain should so well have borne its heavy imports that they could not prevent a rise in Paris.

Shipping Intelligence.

The Ridlaw and Hera are both lying at the city front having arrived since our last report.

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as [illegible] Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness [illegible] Skin Diseases [illegible] cured.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he is [illegible] in visiting the [illegible] hospitals of Europe [illegible] his Dispensary, Kearney street corner Commercial, San Francisco [illegible] requiring his services may [illegible]

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons [illegible] male and female are there who are [illegible] miserable existence from the effects of secret diseases or from [illegible] into their system. [illegible] pallid [illegible] and disfigured face and their [illegible] down [illegible] from the happiness of marriage [illegible] until death. In this horrid [illegible] of [illegible] to those who are suffering with any of these horrible [illegible] that they are [illegible] before it is too late. [illegible] immediately to DR GIBBON [illegible] who has [illegible] years [illegible] in a few days [illegible] the names of eminent physicians [illegible] other places. Be therefore [illegible] in thy [illegible] you may fall into the [illegible] of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual [illegible] is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confusion of vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue [illegible] coughs, consumption, nightsweats [illegible] and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, [illegible] apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G[illegible] give One Hundred Dollars to any person who [illegible] satisfactorily to him that he was cured of [illegible] complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage [illegible] laboring under any of these fearful [illegible] forget the sacred responsibility [illegible] immediate [illegible] DR GIBBON is responsible and will give each patient a written instrument [illegible] effect a radical and permanent [illegible] no charge.

Cured at Home

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr [illegible] symptoms [illegible] and I have medicines promptly [illegible] damage and [illegible] with full and plain directions [illegible] Dollars enclosed in registered letter [illegible] office or through Wells Fargo & Co [illegible] medicine will be forwarded [illegible] the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates entrap the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and [illegible] are tradesmen and became too [illegible] their trades. Some are [illegible] shoemakers [illegible] carriers [illegible] office keepers [illegible] way to avoid imposition is to [illegible] will cost you nothing, and may save you [illegible] for as advertising physicians [illegible] ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patents [illegible] etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may [illegible] his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office box 1957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. 3?d4p
